

My husband Thomas and I were fortunate to have found Selasie through the recommendation of another parent. For 5 weeks she cared for our son Kian at night as his newborn care specialist.

Her attention to detail, care and skill are just a few qualities that make her excellent at her job. We slept peacefully on the nights that she took care of him, knowing that all diaper changes, feeding and anything else necessary would be done and done very well (I'd trust her over my own mother!).

She is highly and clearly communicative, adaptive to parents' comfort levels which I greatly appreciated. She also is very helpful in providing recommendations as to what to do during the daytime to set ourselves up for good night stretches of sleep. As first time parents this is so important and Selasie's help was invaluable and we'll always remember how smooth she made our transition into this new phase of our life.

For this reason and more, I highly recommend Selasie to anyone who is seeking care for their newborn.
